Vice President and General Manager

In his first two seasons as vice president and general manager, Neil Smith has proved that he is one of the elite executives in the National Hockey League.

In the two seasons, New York finished in first place in '89-90 and second place in '90-91. The Rangers Patrick Division championship was the club's first title in 48 years and the two seasons are the most successful back-to-back campaigns since the Rangers first two seasons of existence in 1926-27 (first place) and 1927-28 (second place).

Smith, who was tabbed as the Rangers ninth general manager on July 17, 1989, added talented players Bernie Nicholls, Mike Gartner, Randy Moller and Kris King in his first year. He then bolstered the club's lineup last season by adding Joe Kocur, Joe Cirella and Jody Hull.

Smith also worked quickly and diligently on signing college stars Tony Amonte and Doug Weight, just two days before the start of the 1991 Stanley Cup Playoffs.

During the off-season, Neil made three more acquisitions who are expected to add even more depth to the Rangers roster—Tim Kerr, a four time 50 goal scorer, Sergei Nemchinov, a solid defensive center from the Soviet Wings, who has played for the Soviet National Team in Rendez-Vous '87, the 1987 Canada Cup tournament and the 1989, 1990 and 1991 World Championships and forward Adam Graves, a free agent signed from the Edmonton Oilers.

Neil, who drafted Nemchinov and Weight in the 1990 Entry Draft, made history at the 1991 Entry Draft by selecting Soviet center Alexei Kovalev in the first round, making Kovalev the first player from the Soviet Union ever selected in the first round.

"Drafting 15th in the first round, we wanted to get a superior talent and that is exactly what Alexei brings to the Rangers. He is the best 18 year old the Soviets have and his offensive abilities are tremendous."

A native of Toronto, Ontario, Smith, who was runner-up to Boston's Harry Sinden in the voting for The Hockey News "1989-90 NHL Executive of the Year" award, played junior hockey at Brockville, Ontario, before entering Western Michigan University, where he became an All-America defenseman as a freshman and team captain in his second year.

Drafted by the New York Islanders in the 1974 Universal Draft, Neil went on to play two seasons in the International Hockey League.

Upon the completion of his playing days after the 1979-80 season, he worked in a scouting capacity for the New York Islanders for two years. In 1982-83 he joined the Detroit Red Wings organization as director of professional scouting and the following season he took on the added responsibilities as director of Detroit's entire farm system.

Neil was then named the Wings' director of scouting/player procurement and general manager and governor of the Adirondack Red Wings of the American Hockey League in 1985-86. In his first season he guided Adirondack to a first place finish and the Calder Cup championship and in his final year, 1988-89, the team again finished in first place and won the Calder Cup.

Neil, who appeared as a New York Rangers hockey player in the movie, "Rage of Angels" starring Jacklyn Smith, was recently inducted into the Western Michigan University Sports Hall of Fame, the first hockey player ever given the outstanding honor. He is also a new member of the board of directors for the national Child Abuse Prevention Center.

Neil and his wife, Katia, live in New York City.

Roger Neilson

Head Coach

Known as one of the most dedicated and well-prepared coaches in the game, Roger Neilson enters his third year as Rangers coach after posting identical 36-31-13 records in his first two seasons behind the club's bench.

The two consecutive seasons of at least five games over .500 marked the first time the Rangers have reached that plateau since the '77-78 and '78-79 seasons.

In '89-90, Neilson led New York to a first place finish in the Patrick Division, their first title in 48 years. For his efforts, he was named a finalist for the Jack Adams Trophy as the NHL's Coach of the Year, becoming only the second coach in club history to be nominated for the award.

Last season he had the Rangers in first place for a team record 153 days, before winding up in second place, three points behind the Penguins.

However, with a first place season in '89-90 and a second place finish in '90-91, the Rangers had their best back-to-back campaigns since their first two years of existence when they finished first in 1926-27 and second in '27-28.

After playing minor hockey in the Toronto area in the mid-sixties, Roger joined the Peterborough Petes of the Ontario Hockey Association (which was a fully-sponsored farm club of the Montreal Canadiens), in a scouting role. He became coach of the Petes before the start of the 1966-67 season and remained for 10 seasons. While there, Peterborough won one OHA championship and finished lower than third only twice.

His success in junior hockey led him to the professional ranks in 1976-77, when he was named head coach of the Dallas Black Hawks of the Central Hockey League.

After only one season in Dallas, he entered the National Hockey League as head coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs. In two seasons with the Leafs (1977-78 and 1978-79) he produced two winning campaigns, the last winning seasons that Toronto has had. In his first year, Neilson also took the club to the semi-finals in the playoffs.

Roger was named as associate coach of the Buffalo Sabres in June of 1979 under Scotty Bowman and took the head coaching duties with 26 games remaining in the season. The next season he was behind the bench the entire year as he led the Sabres to a record of 39-20-21.

In June of 1981, Neilson joined the Vancouver Canucks as associate coach under Harry Neale. Late in the 1981-82 campaign, Neilson took the reins of the team when Neale was suspended and went 4-0-1. He continued to coach the club in the playoffs and Vancouver, who finished the regular-season 11th overall, eliminated Calgary, Los Angeles and Chicago before being stopped by the New York Islanders.

His last head coaching stint was in 1983-84 when he succeeded Don Perry as coach of the Los Angeles Kings for the final 28 games of the season.

In 1984, Neilson became a co-coach under Bob Pulford with the Chicago Blackhawks and remained in that position for three seasons. Over the next two seasons, he worked for the Hawks in a scouting capacity and also did some broadcasting for Canadian television.

For the past 13 years, Roger, who has a degree in physical education from McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, has run a five-week hockey school in Peterborough and for the past three years he has run a three-day coaching clinic at the University of Windsor.

His constant companion is his dog, Mike, a white husky Labrador, who travels with him virtually everywhere he goes, including team practices and daily jogging exercises.

Roger, who taught seven years at Willowdale High School in Toronto before moving to Peterborough, has traveled to Africa, Israel and China. Two of his favorite pastimes are watching MTV and eating at Dunkin' Donuts. He is single and spends the off season at his home on Chemong Lake in Ontario.

Larry Pleau

Assistant General Manager/ Player Development

Larry Pleau, who joined the Rangers organization in August of 1989, enters his third season as the club's assistant general manager/player development.

Pleau assists Neil Smith, the team's vice president and general manager, with the development of all amateur players in the organization, while he also oversees the day-to-day operation of the Rangers scouting department. In addition, he is involved in player transactions and the selection of players at the NHL Entry Draft.

While Larry is rarely seen at Madison Square Garden, he travels extensively throughout the year to Europe, Canada and across the United States to prepare for the draft and check on the development of Rangers prospects playing in high school, college or junior hockey. Larry also served as the assistant general manager for the United States team in this year's Canada Cup.

Pleau, 44, played three seasons with the Montreal Canadiens (1969-70 – 1971-72) in the National Hockey League, before being the first player signed by the Hartford Whalers of the World Hockey Association. He was a center/left wing for the Whalers from 1972 until his retirement in 1979. He played in a total of 468 regular-season games for Hartford, accumulating 157 goals and 215 assists for 372 points. In 66 playoff contests, he registered 29 goals and 22 assists for 51 points.

During his time with the Whalers, Larry scored 25 goals or more on four occasions and was selected to play in the WHA All-Star Game three times (1973, 1974 and 1975).

Pleau also played for the 1968 United States Olympic Team, the 1969 U.S. National Team and for Team USA in the 1976 Canada Cup Tournament.

A native of Lynn, Mass., after retiring in 1979 Larry became an assistant coach with the Whalers. He remained in that position until Feb. 20, 1981, when he took the reins as head coach.

The following season he added to his responsibilities as head coach and became the club's director of hockey operations.

After two seasons in that position and a year as assistant general manager under Emile Francis, Pleau became director of hockey operations and head coach of the Binghamton Whalers of the American Hockey League in 1984-85.

In his first season at Binghamton, he led the team to a first-place finish with a record of 52-20-8 and in his third season (1986-87) he guided the club to a mark of 47-26-7, as he was named the AHL's Coach of the Year.

Larry remained in Binghamton for three and a half seasons before returning to Hartford as head coach for the remainder of the 1987-88 campaign and all of the 1988-89 season.

Larry and his wife, Wendy, live in the Hartford area with their son, Steve, and daughter, Shannon.

Rangers Assistant Coaches

Colin Campbell

On August 30, 1990, Rangers vice president and general manager Neil Smith brought 17 years of experience in professional hockey to the New York Rangers by naming former NHL defenseman Colin Campbell as an assistant coach.

Campbell, who served as an assistant coach with the Detroit Red Wings for the last five seasons, played 11 seasons in the NHL and one season in the World Hockey Association.

A native of London, Ontario, Campbell, 38, played junior hockey for Peterborough of the Ontario Hockey League. He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Penguins as their third choice (27th overall) in the 1973 NHL Amateur Draft, but signed to play with Vancouver of the WHA.

After one WHA season, Campbell switched to the NHL and played four years with Pittsburgh, one each with the Colorado Rockies and the Edmonton Oilers and two seasons with the Vancouver Canucks.

Campbell, who played on the Canucks team that went to the 1982 Stanley Cup Finals under Roger Neilson, signed with the Red Wings as a free agent in July of 1982.

He went on to play three seasons with Detroit and retired after the 1984-85 season to become an assistant coach with the team.

Nicknamed "Soupy," he and his wife Heather, reside in Rye, New York, with their daughters Lauren and Courtney and son Gregory.

Wayne Cashman

After 16 seasons as a player with the Boston Bruins, Wayne Cashman is now beginning his fifth full season as a Rangers assistant coach. "Cash" assists coach Roger Neilson in many areas, including the on-ice preparation of the team.

Always known as a player with a tremendous work ethic and a love for the game, Wayne began with the Rangers as a scout for the New England area in August of 1987. After only three months as a scout, he was named as an assistant coach.

As a coach, Cashman has the same loyalty and enthusiasm that he had as a player.

Joining the Bruins for the start of the 1964-65 season, Wayne, a left wing, played 16 seasons, before retiring following the 1982-83 campaign. He was Boston's captain from 1977-78 until his retirement.

Cashman currently ranks second on the Bruins' all-time list in games played (1,027), fifth in goals (277) and assists (516), and sixth in career points (793).

A native of Kingston, Ontario, Cashman, 46, helped Boston to two Stanley Cup championships (1969-70 and 1971-72). He played in a total of 145 playoff games, most in club history, notching 31 goals and 57 assists for 88 points.

Wayne and his wife, Lyn, live in Ocala, Floriad, with their two children, Becky and Scott.

1990-91: Two major injuries limited him to 44 games . . . In the second game of the season (Oct. 6 in Hartford) he suffered a left knee injury that sidelined him for 22 games and on Mar. 13 vs. Detroit he suffered a fracture of the L-2 vertebra in his back that sidelined him for the final eight regular-season contests and all of the playoffs . . . Also missed three games in January with a fractured finger . . . Notched 10 points, the most of his Rangers career . . . Two of his three goals and four of his seven assists were scored vs. Patrick Division . . . Plus 10 rating was fifth on the team, second best among club defensemen.

NHL CAREER: 1980-81: Integral part of Nordiques defense right from when he made his debut with team on Nov. 1, 1980 . . . Appeared in 56 games in his rookie season picking up his first NHL goal on Dec. 30 against Doug Soetaert of the Rangers. 1981-82: In his first full season, he led all Quebec defensemen with a plus 19 rating . . . Tallied four goals and 14 assists and appeared in more games (72) than any Nordique backliner. 1982-83: Despite missing 14 matches with a knee injury, he led Quebec defensemen with six goals while recording a plus 11 mark. 1983-84: Enjoyed a terrific season ranking among league leaders with his plus 41 rating . . . Played in career high 75 games and collected personal best 22 assists. 1984-85: Three goals and 21 assists while playing in second best total of 73 games . . . Appeared in all 18 of Quebec's playoff outings as they advanced to the Conference Finals before losing to Philadelphia. 1985-86: Sidelined for more than 50 games with a separated shoulder . . . Still managed good offensive totals, five goals and four assists in his 26 appearances. 1986-87: Had a solid campaign, matching his career high with six goals while recording a plus two rating . . . Highlight of season was his selection to represent NHL in series against the Soviet Union in Rendez-Vous '87 . . . Also played for Team Canada as they won the Canada Cup Tournament in 1987. 1987-88: Eighth and final season in a Nordiques uniform was once again curtailed by injuries, this time to his neck, back, foot and knee . . . Two of his three goals were tallied against Buffalo and he recorded a pair of two-assist efforts. 1988-89: Had an impressive start in his initial season with Rangers . . . Led the team's defensemen with three goals in pre-season and had a three-assist performance vs. Quebec on Oct. 23 . . . Injured his right knee in next contest and appeared in only three more games the rest of the season before undergoing surgery in February. 1989-90: Rebounded from major knee surgery that sidelined him for almost a year to play in 31 of New York's final 33 contests . . . First game back was Jan. 18 in Pittsburgh and he scored the game-winning goal in his second game, Jan. 23 in Edmonton . . . Appeared in his 500th NHL game on Feb. 9 in Buffalo . . . Played seven games with Flint of IHL in January . . . Played in all 10 playoff games, scoring a goal in each series.

JUNIOR CAREER: Played his entire junior career in the Quebec Junior Hockey League . . . Michel Bergeron was his coach while playing with Trois Rivieres as Les Draveurs finished first in 1977-78 and 1978-79 . . . Traded to the Quebec Remparts early in the '79-80 campaign, he stayed there until called up to the NHL by the Nordiques in October of 1980 . . . Best offensive season in juniors was 1978-79 when he notched 17 goals and 57 assists for 74 points in 72 contests.

BACKGROUND: Nicknamed "Rock" due to a style relying heavily on throwing his weight around and tough defensive play . . . Excellent shot blocker and good positional player . . . Oldest of a family of four, he has three sisters . . . Nephew of Leon Rochefort who played 10 seasons in NHL with seven teams starting with Rangers in 1960-61 . . . Wore uniform number 31 early in career with Quebec before switching to five . . . Soft-spoken, with a quiet, but friendly personality . . . Avid fisherman during the summer . . . Married: wife, Chantal; son, Billy and daughter, Jessie.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: June 11, 1980—Quebec's first choice (second round-24th overall) in the 1980 Entry Draft. Aug. 1, 1988—Traded by Quebec with Jason Lafreniere to Rangers for Jari Gronstrand, Walt Poddubny, Bruce Bell and a 1989 fourth round draft choice (Eric Dubois).

Entry Draft Selections

Name-Round/Overall-Position/Shoots-Ht.-Wt.-Birthdate-Birthplace

COREY HIRSCH 8/169 G/L 5-9 155 7/1/72 Medicine Hat, AL
The first of two goaltenders chosen by the Rangers in this year's Entry Draft . . . Was 26-7-1 with a 3.05 goals against average and a .902 save percentage in 38 contests with Kamloops (WHL) this season . . . Posted a .908 save percentage in 11 playoff games this season while compiling a record of 5-6-0 . . . Has good concentration, follows the puck well through traffic . . . A stand-up goaltender . . . Plays with a lot of confidence . . . Fair size but is capable of handling a heavy work load . . . Was 48-13-0 in 63 games with Kamloops in 1989-90 and followed that season with a stellar playoff campaign going 14-3 . . . Was sixth rated goaltender by Central Scouting.

VJATESLAV UVAYEV 9/191 D/L 5-11 189 4/15/66 Moscow, Russia
Is coming off his first season with Spartak Moscow of the Soviet Elite League . . . Played on the Russian National team at the Izvestia Tournament . . . Is a strong candidate to play on the Russian National Team at the World Championships in May and the Olympics in February . . . Very strong skater who is difficult to knock off the puck . . . Has very good balance and mobility . . . Assistant General Manager, Larry Pleau states "We call Uvayev J.C. because he reminds us so much of J.C. Tremblay — he is a good skater and moves the puck well. He even looks like Tremblay with his big mustache and he kind of sits back on his skates the way J.C. did" . . . Had one goal and ten assists in 45 games with Spartak Moscow last season.

JAMIE RAM 10/213 G/L 5-11 164 1/18/71 Scarborough, ON
Will be entering his sophomore year at Michigan Tech (WCHA) . . . Had the best save percentage in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association last season with a .901 mark . . . Was the WCHA All-Rookie goaltender . . . Biggest strengths are his skating ability and the ability to stand up . . . Very quick catching glove and good anticipation . . . Reminds Ranger scout Dave McNab of the St. Louis Blues and former Wisconsin goaltender, Curtis Joseph as they both are great skaters with superior lateral movement . . . Gives himself a chance to make every save because of his skating ability and quickness.

VITALI CHINAKOV 11/235 C/L 5-11 183 1/15/72 Jaroslav, Russia
Has played parts of the last two seasons with Torpedo in the Soviet Elite League . . . Had a very strong tournament with the Russian B National Team at the Pravda Cup in Leningrad this spring . . . Solid two-way center . . . Had one goal and one assist in 20 contests with Torpedo this season . . . Is expected to play on the Russian Jr. National Team this season . . . Plays traditional Russian center position with a strong work ethic, good defensive ability and real good hockey sense . . . Is unselfish and a very good playmaker . . . Good solid player.

BRIAN WISEMAN 12/257 C/L 5-7 180 7/13/71 Chatham, ON
Was named the Central Collegiate Hockey Association (CCHA) Freshman of the Year last season while playing at the University of Michigan . . . Tallied 25 goals and 33 assists for 58 points in 47 tilts at Michigan . . . Was the nation's second leading scorer among freshmen only one point behind Keith Tkachuk of Boston University (a linemate last season with Ranger, Tony Amonte) who was Winnipeg's first round choice, 19th overall in the 1990 Entry Draft . . . Is coached by former NHLer Red Berenson at the Univeristy of Michigan . . . Is a real point producing machine . . . Is quite strong for a player his size . . . As a nine year old playing in a league with 12-year olds, he amassed 413 goals in a single season breaking the Ontario record of over 400 held by Wayne Gretzky.

STEVEN KING Supp. RW/R 6-0 190 7/22/69 East Greenwich, RI
Graduated from Brown University this past May . . . Notched 19 goals and 15 assists for 34 points while accumulating 76 minutes in penalties in 27 contests . . . Has led Brown in goal scoring each of the last two seasons . . . Recruited by and played the 1987-88 season under current Rangers scout Herb Hammond . . . Has a real good wrist shot and an excellent scoring touch . . . Was honorable mention for All-ECAC team and All-Ivy team last season . . . Was an economics and organizational Behavior Management Major at Brown University . . . Is a tough player with a real mean streak . . . Career totals at Brown were 56 goals, 33 assists, 89 points and 232 penalty minutes in 102 games.

Rangers Season Highlights

— Reached the 35-victory mark for the fourth consecutive season and the 20-win plateau at home for the fourth consecutive campaign.

— Opened the season with eight straight home victories, longest winning streak to begin a season in Rangers history.

— Posted seven straight wins from Oct. 20-Oct. 31, longest win streak since a seven-game winning streak in 1988-89 season.

— Collected 22 points after first 14 games for the first time since 1971-72 campaign.

— 27 points after the first 20 contests was the most after first quarter of season since the 1983-84 season.

— 48 points after the opening 40 outings was the most since Rangers collected 49 points in first half of 1983-84 season.

— Spent a total of 153 days in first place in the Patrick Division (most in team history) including 146 consecutive days from Oct. 22-Mar. 16.

— Rangers 10-game unbeaten streak from Nov. 7-Nov. 26 was tied for the longest in the NHL last season.

— New York set an NHL record by alternating starting goaltenders for the first 76 games.

— With a first place finish in 1989-90 and a second place finish last season, the Rangers have had their best back-to-back campaigns since their first two years of existence when they finished first in 1926-27 and second in 1927-28.

— Last time the Rangers were at least five games over .500 for two consecutive seasons was 1978-79 (40-29-11) and 1979-80 (38-32-10).

— 11 home defeats matches the second lowest total since 1979-80.

— Allowed a total of 265 goals, fewest since they gave up 251 in 1973-74.

— 114 goals given up at home was the fewest since they gave up 102 in 1973-74.

— Rangers had a total of 91 power play goals, tied for the most in the league and the third most in team history.

— Scored four power play goals against the Devils on Feb. 13, second most in a single game in club history.

— Allowed two or less goals 24 times, going 19-0-5 in those outings.

— Rangers used a total of 33 players, fewest in the league.

— Swept three-game series from Los Angeles for the first time since 1971-72 season.

— Went unbeaten vs. Buffalo (2-0-1) for the first time since 1981-82 season.

— 8-5-2 record vs. Adams Division was the best mark since the division was formed in 1974-75.

— 8-4-3 mark vs. the Smythe Division marked the third consecutive winning season for New York against Smythe teams.

— Rangers went the entire season without being shut out.

— .544 winning percentage vs. non-Patrick Division teams was best mark of any team within the division.

Ron Smith

Head Coach

On July 25th New York Rangers vice president and general manager Neil Smith announced that Ron Smith, who has served the last two seasons as a New York Rangers assistant coach, will coach the Binghamton Rangers of the American Hockey League.

"Ron has very valuable experience in coaching at various levels," said Smith. "He knows our organization well and is extremely talented at developing young players."

Smith, 47, joined the Rangers organization on August 15, 1989 as an assistant coach, after coaching the Guelph Platers of the Ontario Hockey League in 1988-89.

A native of Gault, Ontario, Ron has also served as an assistant coach for two years with the Toronto Maple Leafs, two seasons with the Buffalo Sabres and two and a half years with the Vancouver Canucks. In addition, he served as associate coach with the New Jersey Devils for a season and a half.

Smith began his coaching career with Guelph (Tier II) in 1972-73 and remained there until 1975-76. He served as head coach at York University in Ontario for one season (1978-79) and spent the 1985-86 campaign as an assistant coach and director of player personnel for the Canadian Olympic program.

Ron worked for eight years as technical director of the Ontario Association and was instrumental in the creation of the National Coaching Certification program for Canadian coaches. Ron also teamed with Doug Carpenter during the 1985 World Championships in Prague, leading Team Canada to a silver medal.

Ron played baseball in the San Francisco Giants organization in the mid-sixties where he was teammates with Bobby Bonds and Tito Fuentes.

Ron spends the off-season with his wife, Patti, and their two sons, Landry and Devin.

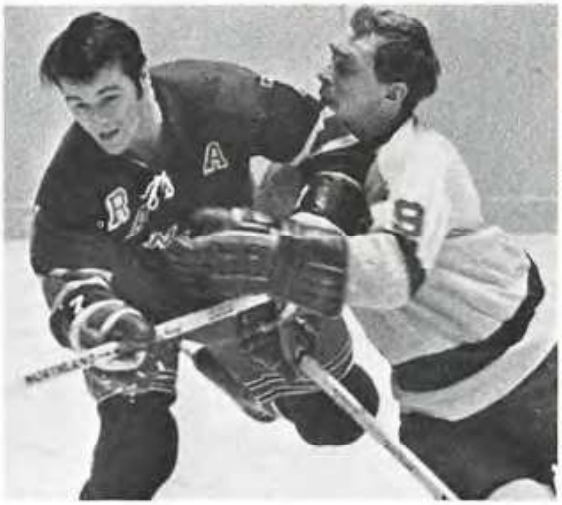
Rod Gilbert Named Winner of The 1991 Lester Patrick Award



Hall of Famer Rod Gilbert, the all time leading scorer in Rangers history, was named winner of the 1991 Lester Patrick Award for contributions to hockey in the United States.

Rod, who is currently the team's manager of community relations, is very involved with lending a hand to various charitable organizations and youth hockey groups in the metropolitan area.

A Brief History of The New York Rangers

The Rangers' Official Emblem

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who are embarking on their 66th season of National Hockey League play in 1991-92.

The 90's has marked the beginning of a brand new era in the storied history of the Rangers. The naming of Neil Smith as vice president and general manager of the team in July of 1989 and his subsequent appointment of an entirely new management team, including the appointment of head coach Roger Neilson, directed the Rangers toward the decade of the 1990s.

Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, the world's premier sports arena that had opened its doors just a year earlier.

The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Patrick worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

In short, the Rangers built an empire, and New Yorkers loved every minute of it.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals," Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on the managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were all stalwarts of that era.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller, and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star, and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fans' favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York.

Other stars of that era included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

New stars like Anders Hedberg, Ulf Nilsson, Barry Beck, Ron Greschner, Phil Esposito, John Davidson, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, ushered the Rangers into a decade of the 1980s. The team dramatically marched to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1979, and showed real signs of returning to the days of past glory.

Future glory—in the form of the Stanley Cup—is the clear goal of the Rangers' Neil Smith and he is committed to that.

Says Smith: "Stability and a hard work ethic will bring the Stanley Cup to New York. When? We'll have to wait and see. But the reason it will come is because we're creating a stable environment and from that, winning will come."

Spoken like a man who knows how to win, who has won before, and is now the vice-president and general manager of the New York Rangers, only the ninth man to hold that position in the 66-year history of the Rangers.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

Madison Square Garden is well into its second century as the world's most famous sports and entertainment center.

A New York City landmark since 1879, the Garden moved in 1968 to its third site and fourth building, located in midtown Manhattan at Pennsylvania Plaza, bounded by Seventh and Eighth Avenues and 31st and 33rd Streets and standing above Pennsylvania Station. The home of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association and the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, the Garden annually welcomes some four million guests to more than 400 events.

Madison Square Garden is currently completing an extensive renovation of its entire facility to create a state-of-the-art showplace which will include the 20,000-seat Arena and a new, 6,000-seat Paramount Theater.

The first Garden was located at Madison Square, 26th Street and Madison Avenue. The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, was officially named Madison Square Garden May 31, 1879, after being preceded at the site by P.T. Barnum's "Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome" and "Gilmore's Garden's," named for noted band impresario Patrick S. Gilmore.

When problems with the first Garden became too much to overcome, a corporation was organized to construct a new building. Demolition of the old structure began in 1889 and a new, roofed Garden with a 320-foot tower designed by famed New York architect Stanford White was opened June 16, 1890 with a concert by Viennese conductor Eduard Strauss and his orchestra.

Thirty-four years later, Garden II came to its end when the New York Life Insurance Company, which held a mortgage on the land, decided to tear down the building in 1924. George (Tex) Rickard, a well-known boxing promoter, organized a group to undertake the construction of another Garden at a different location.

The third Garden replaced trolley car barns on a site between 49th and 50th Streets on Eighth Avenue. The building was constructed in 249 days and opened unofficially November 28, 1925 with the six-day bike races. The official opening event, on December 15, was a professional hockey game with the Montreal Canadiens defeating the New York Americans, 3-1. Under the leadership of Rickard and, later, General John Reed Kilpatrick, Ned Irish and Irving Mitchell Felt, the Garden steadily increased in stature.

In 1960, plans were announced for the new Madison Square Garden Center. The site above Pennsylvania Station was chosen for the Garden's new home and the construction process, including the demolition of the old above-ground railroad terminal, began in 1965. Garden IV opened as a glittering sports and entertainment showplace, with its distinctive circular, cable-suspended roof above the Arena and an adjacent 29-story office building, on February 11, 1968 with a superstar-studded "Salute to the USO" concert. Madison Square Garden celebrated its centennial anniversary on May 31, 1979.

Madison Square Garden is operated by the MSG Facilities Development and Management Group of Madison Square Garden, a Paramount Communications company.

STEVEN McDONALD AWARD

Following the 1987-88 season, the Rangers, in conjunction with Mitsubishi Motors, presented a new award dedicated to paralyzed New York City police officer Steven McDonald called the Steven McDonald "Extra Effort Award" for the Ranger player "who goes above and beyond the call of duty." The inaugural winner was Jan Erixon, the winner in 1988-89 was Tony Granato and in 1989-90, the voting by the fans was so close there were co-winners, Kelly Kisio and John Vanbiesbrouck. Last season, the winner once again was Erixon who received a brand new Mitsubishi Eclipse GS turbo sports coupe. Above left, Steven, his wife, Patty Ann and their son, Conor with Don Lavin, eastern sales manager of Mitsubishi Motors (right) and the new Eclipse GS turbo sports coupe won by Erixon. Left, Jan receives the Steven McDonald Trophy from Lavin, who also presented the Steven McDonald Foundation with a check for $15,000, as McDonald and his family look on. Below, Jan says a few words to Steven, who announced the award winner for the first time.

LARS-ERIK SJOBERG AWARD

For the third straight year, the New York Rangers, in conjunction with the Professional Hockey Writer's Association, presented the Lars-Erik Sjoberg Award, symbolic of the best rookie in training camp.

Sjoberg was the Rangers European Scout from 1980 until he passed away in October of 1987.

Mike Richter was the winner of the inaugural award in 1988 and Troy Mallette won the award in 1989.
